I ran into Dafny from a post in <https://blog.acolyer.org/2015/10/15/ironfleet-proving-practical-distributed-systems-correct/> which I found to be of great interest. However, I found this repo to be difficult to understand ... there doesn't seem to be well defined boundaries between examples where they start or stop ... it's unclear how to load any of these examples ... I have a sense there's Dafny library code here that might be re-used but that's not entirely clear either. Can we reorg this or can the maintainers give a road map of what this is supposed to communicate?
